Gifts and Hospitality Policy

Why do we have guidance on gifts and hospitality?

Your conduct as a member of staff, a governor or Trustee should never lead anyone to question your interests, or lead anyone to think that you have been influenced by gifts and hospitality. This is important because your own personal reputation and that of the school and the Trust could be seriously affected if you inappropriately accept a gift or hospitality. It is also a criminal offence to demand or accept a gift or reward in return for allowing you to be influenced as a part of the school. This is why the Trust has guidance which applies to all staff, governors and Trustees on gifts and hospitality.

What is a gift?

A gift is any item or service that you receive free of charge. It also includes any goods or services which you personally are offered at a discounted rate or on terms not available to the general public.

What is hospitality?

Hospitality is the offer of food, drink, accommodation or entertainment or the opportunity to attend any cultural or sporting event on terms not available to the general public.

What gifts or hospitality can be accepted without any approval?

You can accept gifts and hospitality, which are small gestures and have a value of £30 or less, without the approval of the Head of School. Gifts and hospitality of this nature do not need to be recorded in the school's Gifts and Hospitality Register.

What things should I think about before I decide what to do?

You should treat with caution any offer of gift or hospitality made to you personally. In particular, think about whether there is a benefit to the school or Trust in you accepting, the scale, amount, frequency and source of the offer, the timing of the offer in relation to forthcoming decisions and whether accepting could be misinterpreted as a sign of your, or the school's, or Trust's support or favour.

What gifts or hospitality need approval from the Headteacher or Chair of Governors?

Any gift or hospitality which is more than just a token, defined as a having a value of more than £30, should be politely refused or returned. You must have the prior written approval of the Head of School if you decide to accept something which has more than this value. This should only be in exceptional circumstances. If you or your Head of School has any concerns or doubts about the public perception that might be attached to accepting any gift or hospitality, then it must be referred to the Chair of Governors or Chair of Trust.

What should I do if I receive a gift without warning?

If you estimate that the gift is more than just a token you should politely and courteously decline the gift. If you feel that it would not be appropriate to do this, you should refer the matter to your Head of School as soon as possible and let the Head of School decide what you should do with the gift. Your Head of School may decide to return the gift, may ask the Chair of Governors for a view, or may donate the gift to a worthy local cause

What should I do if I get offered a gift or hospitality?

You must make sure that all offers you receive which have a value of more than £30 are recorded in the school's Gifts and Hospitality Register, which is kept in the school office.

Do I need to record offers that I decline?

Yes – all offers of gifts or hospitality, which have a value of more than £30, must be recorded in the school's register, even if you don't accept.

What should I do if I am in doubt?

If in doubt, always speak to the Head of School. It is your responsibility to follow the school's guidance on gifts and hospitality and to justify why you chose to accept a gift or hospitality offered to you.

What would happen to me if I didn't follow the guidance?

The school may take disciplinary action against you if you failed to follow the guidance.
